The BULLETIN OF BIBLIOGRAPHY was established in 1897 as a medium for the publication of articles, bibliographies, reading lists, and other material helpful to libraries. The "Department of Applied Library Economy," "The Principal Contents of the Library Press," and the "Dramatic Index" are regular features, as is also the record of "Births and Deaths in the Periodical World." A portrait of some well-known librarian or bibliographer is given in each issue.

Correspondence concerning the BULLETIN is solicited, and lists or articles suitable for publication are desired.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

We print in this issue the annual index to library reference lists, which has been a feature of the BULLETIN OF BIBLIOGRAPHY since 1901, and which many librarians find most helpful. The fact that the list is compiled by the Providence Public Library is assurance of its accuracy and completeness.

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

Don't forget "Faxon Service" when it comes time to renew your magazine subscriptions. Let Mr. Faxon make you an estimate from the only agency which carries a stock of back files.

NEW PUBLICATIONS

We wish to call special attention to two new books recently published by the F. W. Faxon Co., which we know all librarians will be glad to consider.

"Shakespearean Oracles" by Mrs. B. B. Kaiser is a new kind of Shakespeare handbook, covering the short quotable sayings of the great poet, arranged and indexed for instant reference by writers or public speakers. It will be a welcome gift book also for all Shakespeare lovers. Will you help us to reach such people by sending the name of the president of your local Shakespeare Club?

"A List of Series and Sequels for Juvenile Readers," in a new edition by May G. Quigley, gives libraries an up-to-date revision of one of our most useful reference publications. The order of issue and the titles of these series stories can here be found quickly and the book will be needed wherever work with children is done.

OUR FRONTISPIECE

Mr. Samuel H. Ranck, librarian of Grand Rapids (Mich.) Public Library since 1904, is so well known to most members of the American Library Association that our task of introducing him to the few is a light one. He was graduated from Franklin and Marshall College in 1892, and received his A. M. degree there in 1895. He was even, while in college, an assistant in the library, and on graduation went to the Enoch Pratt Free Library in Baltimore, where he soon became assistant librarian, and left in 1904 to take charge in Grand Rapids of the building up of a public library. His success has been notable. His help is constantly sought in library matters throughout the country, he has made the Grand Rapids library one of those progressive institutions, reaching out into the whole city with its good work. He is a life member of the A. L. A., and has held many important committee positions. He is a constant contributor to the library periodicals and other magazines.

We give an excellent picture of him as frontispiece to this issue.

MAGAZINE NOTES

American Review, vol. 1, no. 1, Jan.-Feb. 1923, bi-monthly, octavo, is a new educational, political, industrial, psychological, philosophical, religious, scientific, and art periodical, the successor of School and Home Education, which died in June, 1922. The initial issue is a worthy one. $3.00 a year.

Chemistry and Industry, official organ of the Federal Council for Pure and Applied Chemistry, London, weekly, started January 5, 1923, as vol. 42, no. 1. It is published by the Society of Chemical Industry long so well known for its Journal, and its Abstracts. The cause of the first issue of Chemistry and Industry being called vol. 42, is found in the fact that The Journal of the Society of Chemical Industry begins at its 42d volume on the same date, and because this new "Chemistry and Industry" (called on its covers, "Chemistry and Industry Review"!) will also form a part of the regular issues of the Journal, which changing from a fortnightly to a weekly January 5, 1923, will contain also a section of Transactions and a section of Abstracts. Thus we have the Journal, with its three sections bound up in each issue, weekly, at the old price of the fortnightly (£4.4.0 if ordered through an agent, but only £2.10.0 to American libraries and universities which place their subscriptions direct with the society, thus being classed as members and paying the members' rate). And we also have the valuable Review section issued as a separate magazine for £1.5.0 post free, called Chemistry and Industry, beginning with vol. 42, no. 1, and becoming the official organ of the Federal Council of Pure and Applied Chemistry; a body made up of representatives of The Chemical Society, The Society of Chemical Industry, The Institute of Chemistry, The Faraday Society, The Society of Dyers and Colourists, The Iron and Steel Institute, Ceramic Society, Biochemical Society, Institute of Metals, Royal Agricultural Society, Mineralogical Society, Society of Glass Technology, Royal Photographic Society, and others. We recommend and will place subscriptions to Chemistry and Industry for any libraries desiring such an authenic weekly résumé of this broad field, $5.75 per year.

The Children's Hour. Here we have a new monthly for children (vol. 1, no. 1, April, 1923, $3.25 a year) with an idea back of it that will appeal to librarians and parents. It will not depict the naughty child, and will eliminate any suggestion of cruelty, fear, or sickness. It will uplift, educate, amuse, and will tend to calm the budding mind. There is surely room for a good children's periodical, and we endorse this one as worthy of your support — a good magazine for good children.

Collectors' Digest. In our August, 1922, issue, we asked someone to tell us how vol. 4, no. 3, could be whole no. 6. The publisher wrote us that vols. 1, 2, and 3 each were complete in one number for vol. 4 began with whole no. 4. See how easy it is when you know how! Collectors' Digest, Nov.-Dec. 1922, is before us now and is vol. 4, no. 9, whole no. 12, but look inside and behold we have October, 1922, vol. 4, no. 8! Now please tell us, before all our New England snow is gone, how one issue can be two numbers. That's harder than how one volume can be one number. Mr. A. H. Pike, publisher, is a collector of varieties by profession. We hope he's collecting a file of Collectors' Digest.

Educational Review, having changed its color to a bright blue recently, has with January, 1923, increased in size, so it is now 7 x 10 inches. It's only bad habit is going out of print before we all get our quota of copies.

Engineering and Contracting was "contracted" from 9 x 12 to 6 x9 with October 1, 1922, but, see what a kind-hearted publisher can do! In order that readers who desire may bind up vol. 58, the reading pages from October 4th to the end of the year will be furnished in the old size on request. Now that is what we call thoughtful. But here is a delightful variety, too, beginning with the new size. The first issue of each month will be devoted to Roads and Streets, the second to Waterworks, the third to Railways, and the fourth to Buildings. Each of these weekly issues had been entered at the post-office as a monthly, with the same volume number, but paged separately until the end of 1922. With the new volume at the beginning of 1923 the continuity of paging will be resumed, or the four issues of each month can be assembled as one volume. At the end of the half-year an index covering all four issues will be issued.

An index based on the 9 x 12 size will be published at the end of 1922.

"Previous to adopting the 6 x 9 size, October 4th, we published vol. 1, nos. 1–3, of Roads and Streets, vol. 1, nos. 1–4, of Waterworks News. Beginning October 4th, in addition to the regular issues of Engineering and Contracting, we started publishing as supplements to these, four free circulation magazines, Road and Street News, Waterworks News, Railway Construction News, and Building News. We disregarded the first three numbers of Waterworks News and the first four numbers of Road and Street News issued prior to October 4th, and started the new issues as vol. 1, no. 1. The reading pages of the four supplements are selected from those of the corresponding issues of Engineering and Contracting. These four supplements will be paged separately, and no index will be issued for them."

This very clear explanation given by the editor will, we think, give all our readers food for thought. We wonder no one thought of such a nice plan before. So simple, too.

Gaylord's Triangle now has two sides. One is Gaylord's Triangle, vol. 2, no. 6, February 1, 1923, the other is Gaylord's Triangle, School Library Edition, vol. 1, no. 2, February 15, 1923.

"Two magazines with but a single name," the contents of these two we have on our table look lots alike, but are not, if you put on your spectacles. Take the front pages showing the march of the Gaylord Bros. to prosperity; we thought the two were exactly alike until we got out our ruler and measured 'em.

Business surely did jump under Miss L. A., but look what F. B. S.'s coming did on the 1922 level.

Our issues are defective, they had two holes punched out of each. But they're all free, and worth the asking.

Literary Digest sometimes nods, like other less husky fellows. Vol. 71, nos. 1, 2, and 3, October 1, 8, 15, 1921, were numbered as vol. 70, nos. 14, 15, 16, when we all know there are but 13 issues to one volume. Then vol. 72, nos. 13 and 14, were published instead of vol. 73, nos. 1 and 2, as vol. 72, only had 12 issues to complete it. "Ain't nature wonderful!"

Miss Rutherford's Scrap-Book, Valuable Information About the South, is the name of a new little magazine each number of which is a whole volume of some 20 pages, octavo.

Vol. 1 is January, 1923, vol. 2, February, vol. 3, March. She (Mildred Lewis Rutherford) calls it "a monthly pamphlet, 10 times a year," $2.50. It is a Confederate publication.

Nature Magazine, an illustrated monthly, with popular articles about nature, is a newcomer which we welcome. The American Nature Association membership is $2.00, including this beautiful and very instructive magazine of quarto size. We urge every library to let us place a subscription from January, 1923, [no. 1]. We predict that many would-be owners of a complete set will not subscribe in time. Hurry!

New York Clipper got "trimmed" a bit when December 20, 1922, came out as vol. 69, when all the rest of the year had been labeled vol. 70.

Proletarian is a magazine known to few. Let's get better acquainted. Vol. 3, no. 11, is December, 1921; January, 1922, was omitted; February, 1922, is vol. 4, no. 1; March, 1922, is vol. 5, no. 3; and then regularly up to vol. 5, no. 11, November, 1922; December, 1922, "isn't"; January, 1923, is vol. 6, no. 1. Directions to the binder: — bind the months of 1922 in order, and letter the books vols. 4–5. Chicago papers please copy.

Quarterly Journal of the New York State Historical Association, vol. 2, is composed of four issues, as one would perhaps expect from its name, but a title and index is issued loose in no. 4, reading "Proceedings of the New York State Historical Association with the Quarterly Journal, vol. 19." Mike and Ike they look alike, and a cloth case is provided for binding, labeled, "Proceedings of the 21st annual meeting, vol. 19." It's big enough to take a fifth number, but we are assured it's just right for the four, if we will but try it on our binder.

The Reference Shelf has set up a new style: vol. 1, nos. 2 to 5 inclusive, are one and all dated December, 1922.

Revue d' Histoire et de Philosophie religieuses, is published every two months in Strasbourg, France. It has articles covering the various aspects of the science of religion, as well as bibliographical notices and more extended reviews of the most important books. We recommend all libraries with a religious department to subscribe. The F. W. Faxon Co. are sole agents for the United States. Price, $2.00 a year ($1.50 to ministers and theological students).

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE ON AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF ECONOMIC ENTOMOLOGISTS

American Association of Economic Entomologists was first known as the Association of Economic Entomologists. First constitution, in Canadian Entomologist 21: 166, 168, 1889. Notice of first meeting, in Canadian Entomologist, 21: 219, 1889, also in Insect Life, vol. 2, no. 6. Second annual meeting, in Insect Life, vol. 3, no. 5. Third annual meeting, in Insect Life, vol. 4, nos. 1–2. Fourth annual meeting, in Insect Life, vol. 5, no. 2; also in Canadian Entomologist, 25: 201–212, 1892. Fifth annual meeting, in Insect Life, vol. 6, no. 2; also in Canadian Entomologist, 25: 263–271, 1893. Sixth annual meeting, in Insect Life, vol. 7, no. 2; also in Canadian Entomologist, 26: 265–274, 1894. Seventh to Nineteenth meetings, in U. S. Bureau of Entomology Bulletin, new series, nos. 2, 1895, 6, 1896, 9, 1897, 17, 1898, 20, 1899, 26, 1900, 31, 1902, 37, 1902, 40, 1903, 46, 1904, 52, 1905, 60, 1906, 67, 1907. Twentieth and following Meetings, in Journal of Economic Entomology, vols. 1 to date.

NOTE:— The Entomological Club of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, whose Proceedings may be found in Canadian Entomologist, vol. 21, 1890, and vol. 23, 1891, had no official connection with the American Association of Entomologists, though the activities reported were by practically the same group.

NEW BOOKS BY LIBRARIANS

DAVIS, MARY GOULD. The girls' book of verse. A treasury of old and new poems. This delightful book gives a multitude of poems by the best authors, and they are chosen as the favorites of girls, thus for the first time bringing together in an anthology those which girls have loved to read and hear. There are verses suited to many varieties of temperament. The book is in three parts: "Melody," "The Pipes of Pan," and "Enchantment," and has an index to authors, first lines, and titles.

New York, Frederick A. Stokes Co. 1922. 289 pages Cloth, $2.00 net.

HUNT, CLARA W. Memoirs of a London Doll, with an introduction by Clara W. Hunt. All young girls will be grateful to Miss Hunt for rescuing this delightful little book from oblivion and making it available to the present generation of children, with all its quaint touches of old London and the queer customs of a bye-gone time nearly a hundred years ago. The publishers have tried to reproduce the original in size and type. Illustrations, some in color, are added.

New York, Macmillan Co. 1922. 174 pages, $1.25.

KAISER, BEZA BOYNTON. Shakespearean Oracles, a collection of the most quotable short sayings from the Great Dramas; designed especially as a handbook for public speakers, debaters, and writers. Of the multitude of Shakespeare books, this newcomer touches a new angle, and we feel sure there is room for it. We may be pardoned for including among "books by librarians" this one compiled by a librarian's mother, with an introduction by librarian Asariah S. Root of Oberlin College. All the witty sayings, proverbs, epigrams, humble old saws, in fact all the short quotable phrases and sentences are here gleaned for ready reference, arranged under the three general headings: Proverbs, Familiar quotations, Epithets, expletives, and catch phrases. Reference to play, act, and scene is given, and an index is added by which any quotation can be at once located.

Boston, F. W. Faxon Co. 1923. 142 pages. Cloth, $1.75.

KRAUSE, LOUISE B. Better business libraries, Talks with executives. The chapters of this useful little book were originally printed as a series of articles in "Trained Men," a monthly of the International Correspondence Schools, at Scranton, Pennsylvania. This book is a revision and is brought brought up-to-date. It will be invaluable to business executives, and helpful to librarians, both of public and business libraries. How to find and put to the best use printed business information is well covered, and no one more competent than Miss Krause, with her long experience with H. M. Byllesby & Co., could have been found to write such a handbook.

Chicago, The Indexers Press. 1922. 98 pages. Cloth, $5.00.

MOSHER, MARION DIX. More toasts, jokes, stories, and quotations. This book supplements and brings up-to-date "The Toaster's Handbook" issued some years ago by the same publishers. It is arranged by subjects and will be invaluable to after-dinner speakers, in fact to all who must make addresses for no speech is complete without its apropos stories. We hope all libraries will call special attention to this work which should be owned by every speaker.

New York, H. W. Wilson Co. 1922. 542 pages. Cloth, $1.80.

MUDGE, ISADORE G. New guide to reference books. This work is based on the third edition of "Kroeger's Guide to the Study and Use of Reference Books" as revised bv Miss Mudge in 1917. It will be more than welcome to all librarians as a "tool" indispensable to good work. Much new material is here added, and the previous edition thoroughly revised.

Chicago, American Library Association. 1923. Cloth, 278 2-column pages, $3.00.

PEARSON, EDMUND LESTER. Books in black and red. A new book by Mr. Pearson is always hailed with delight by his hosts of reader-friends. This one is a delight, dealing so interestingly with literary hoaxes (in which he admits a share), the joys of hunting in book-shops, the research for curious books. Half his chapters are partly reprints, the rest of the book is new, but we don't think that is any drawback — the reprints we mean — for who cares to dig through the chaff of The Nation or Weekly Review to find the Pearsonian kernels! We like what he says of the Literary Annuals and gift books our fathers-to-be gave our mothers-to-be. We surely agree that indexes are often very good reading, but alas this book hasn't any. A parting admonition: the pages are not really intended by the publisher for blotters; its only his quaint way of getting $3.50 for a 200-page book, from those of the book-buying public who gauge value by thickness, — and an author needs all kinds of purchases to make royalty loom up prettily these days.

New York, Macmillan Co. 1923. 213 pages, $3.50.

QUIGLEY, MAY G. A list of series and sequels for juvenile readers, revised and enlarged from the compilation of Katherine H. Wead. This is "Useful Reference Series," no. 27, and gives in handy form those juveniles which have been issued in series, so that "the next book" in a series may be readily produced in response to the insistent demands made upon the children's librarians. The success of the first edition which has been out-of-print for some time, had caused the publishers to issue this new and up-to-date compilation.

Boston, F. W. Faxon Co. 1923. 63 pages, cloth, $1.35.

From the American Library Association we note the following recent publications:

U. S. GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS (Federal, State, and City) by J. I. Wyer. Revised edition. A Preprint of Chap. 23, Manual of Library Economy.

A pamphlet of 40 pages.

GRADED LIST OF STORIES TO TELL OR READ ALOUD, compiled by Harriot E. Hassler and Carrie E. Scott. Fourth edition, revised and enlarged.

39-page pamphlet, 35c; (10 copies 20c. each, 100, 15c. each).

BOOKLIST BOOKS 1922, a selection. A handy selected list of the best books of the year arranged by subject, with an index.

88-page pamphlet, 25c; (10 copies 10%, 50 copies 20%, 100 or more 33⅓%).

From The H. W. Wilson Co. we have to note the following new publications.

LIST OF SUBJECT HEADINGS FOR SMALL LIBRARIES, edited by Minnie Earl Sears. This book is the result of the insistent demand of small libraries for a less comprehensive list than those hitherto available issued by Library of Congress and the A. L. A. This compilation is based on the lists of subject headings used in nine representative small libraries.

1923. 181 pages, cloth, $1.50.

PLAYS FOR AMATEURS, a selected list by S. Marion Tucker, President N. Y. Drama League, 2d edition, revised and enlarged. This useful pamphlet covers One-act plays for men and women, Plays for Men, Plays for Women, Long plays, Plays for outdoor performance, Plays in oriental settings. It has a statement of cost of royalties for producing plays, and a list of addresses to which payment is to be made.

34 pages, 60c.

THE REFERENCE SHELF is really a series of monographs, each issue devoted to one subject, and so should have a notice here with other books and pamphlets. Eight issues have so far appeared and ten will constitute volume 1. The publication is for debaters' use and information will be up-to-date. Price per volume $4.50, but separate numbers can be purchased if desired.

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF H. G. WELLS' "OUTLINE OF HISTORY"

Compiled by Irene Gentry, Public Library, Kansas City, Mo.

This bibliography gives an author and title list of references, arranged alphabetically by author under the Chapter Subjects. It was compiled from the original English edition, which appeared in twenty-four parts. Additions are made from the one-volume Cassell edition, and the two-volume edition published by Macmillan. When "1 vol. Eng." or "2 vols." are added after an entry these editions are referred to.

An asterisk (*) prefixed to certain lines means "not located in indexes."
